

You are invited to an afternoon with Brazilian guitarist

Chrystian Dozza is one of the leading lights of the new generation of Brazilian instrumental musicians, a brilliant young guitarist/composer whose talents have been widely displayed and rewarded.

Dozza has won many important contests, such as the Concurso Nacional de Violões Musicais, Concurso Novos Talentos da Música Erudita and the Concurso Violão sem Fronteiras that cover all kind of guitar music, and are awarded at the renowned Festival Assad. He also won the prize for best instrumentalist of the XIV Prêmio BDMG Instrumental, one of the most important awards within the Brazilian instrumental music community.

At Humph Hall he will be joined by Oswaldo Junior (flute) and Giuseppe Zangari (guitar).
